

My Milestones by Commerce®

At

we respect and value each of our employees and are committed to helping you succeed in work and in your overall well-being.

In addition to physical and mental health, we recognize that there's another area of well-being that impacts your quality of life and your productivity: Financial wellness. According to Forbes Magazine, "Financial health means you have the ability to reach your goals, take advantage of opportunities and gives you flexibility to pursue your dreams. The only way to achieve financial health is through financial literacy." (Forbes.com, "Financial Wellness is Critical to Your Overall Health," January 19, 2022).

That's why we're so excited to partner with My Milestones by Commerce®, a financial literacy program that offers you personalized recommendations on topics that are important to you, such as:

- Savings for retirement
- Financing education
- Managing money and budgeting
- Paying off debt

My Milestones by Commerce® gives you the resources to be more informed and more confident in your financial life, which contributes to overall wellness for you and your family.

Please watch for more information coming soon on this exciting new program. We look forward to starting this financial wellness journey with you.
